Mums brush up on school skills

A SOCIAL painting night fundraiser will assist Donvale Primary School put a new coat of paint on its ageing play equipment.

Advertised as a girl's night out, money raised at the Paint the Nite event will go towards a restoration of the school's playground.

School principal Lena Clark said the playground needed a spruce-up.

Ms Clark said the evening could serve as a good introduction to the school for prospective parents.

"We want women in the community to come along and feel spoiled with champagne and nibbles," she said.

Attendees will take part in a social painting class under the guidance of a host artist.

The event will start at 7pm this Thursday, May 7, and tickets cost $40.
